1a	I have studied Pablo Picasso
	'Bread and Fruit dish on table' 1909
	Media handling/techniques Picasso has used traditional materials. He has use oil paint on canvas applied with a paint brush. This can be seen in his rushed looking stroke. This contrasts with the areas where he put more detail strokes in making the paint more eye catching.
	Picasso
	line Picasso used line in the table leaf. This creates a focal point as it is the biggest line on the page and is in the center of the painting.

like a table, fruit and bread. The can draw people into the painting as it reminds them of home and makes them feel happy.

Picasso was influenced by Paul Cezan with him using multiple view points. Cezan uses multiple view points in his painting and that influenced Picasso and he used it by tilting the table forward so all the object to be seen and at eye level.

Picasso was also influenced by George Braque with the Cubist movement. They were both co-founders and developers of the cubist movement. This can be seen in the unrealistic style of Pablo's painting like how the

4a Composition

The artist uses a focal point in the painting. This being the big apple. The apple is large in scale and can be seen on the top right corner of the painting. This is the focal point as it is dominant as ~~it~~ it is the biggest and brightest thing on the page drawing people's eyes to it first.

The artist arranged ~~everything~~ all the fruits in a line and the right hand side. This makes stand out and eye catching as they are all clumped together.

The artist used harmonising colours. This can be seen in the fruits by the red being next to yellow's and purple's. The make all the colours stand out by being next to each other and draw people in.

The artist use both hot and cold colours. They use red's, yellow's and orange's for the fruits and back ground and purple's, blue's and little bit of green for the fore ground. The creates a divide in the painting as most of the hot and cold colours are separated on the page.

The artist ^{also} uses complimentary colours. Like the orange in the back ground and blue in

	the foreground. These contrast with each other and make each other stand out and be bold and this makes the painting eye catching.
	The artist uses a wide colour palette. This can be seen with their use of different colours everywhere like having different colours for every fruit. This can lead your eye around the page with all the colours making the painting more appealing.
	media handling and technique The artists use non non-traditional materials as they have used cuttings for adverts and used in painting. This is because artists don't normally use this and make the painting unique.

The artist used oil paint which is traditional. This can be seen in the paint stroke as they are detailed. The draws people into the painting with how realistic it looks.

I think the style is realistic as they have made the plot look real ~~and creates a~~ but also an unrealistic style as ~~the objects~~ they have used solid colours in some parts that make it look unreal. This draws viewers eye to the painting. ~~the~~

I think the style is successful as they have used their own touch on it making it unique and one of a kind.
